The William S O'Farrell Volunteer Award recognizes individuals who have made significant contributions to AMIA and to the field through service as a volunteer.

The award may be for contributions over an extended period or for a single outstanding contribution. Areas of achievement may include significant contributions to AMIA in the form of notable achievement or special projects; noteworthy volunteer service carried over an extended period of time.

The Award is named for long-time member Bill O'Farrell and honors all that Bill did for the Association, the mentoring role he played over the years to so many archivists, and his contribution to the field.
